PRESIDENT WORKS IN THE OPEN AIR

Confers With Callers and Transacts Business in His Tent Offices.

NEZ PERCE INDIANS ARE LISTED AMONG CALLERS

Executive Cordially Receives Twenty-Two New Consuls—Learns of Colorado Situation.

President Wilson worked in his open tent offices today, conferring and conferring with all callers there. His shanty hands with a number of visitors prior to beginning his schedule of business calls, among these being a delegation of Nez Perce Indians from the Nez Perce reservation in northern Idaho, introduced by Representative French of that state. Black Eagle, a son of the noted Nez Perce Chief Joseph; Kip Kippelken and Kash Kash were in the party. Another interesting visitor was Col. W. L. Sibert, one of the builders of the Panama canal, who introduced his daughter, Miss Mary Sibert, and the latter's friend, Franklin Cummins. Miss Sibert wanted to see a real President in action at the White House, and was delighted with her reception.

The President gave a cordial reception to twenty-two new consuls of the State Department, who were introduced for their respective posts. They were presented by Wilbur J. Carr of the State Department. The only Washington man in the party was Wilbur Koblentz, who has been secretary of the Mexican boundary commission, and who has been assigned to a post in Mexico. He will spend two weeks in a consular school of preparation before going to Malta.

G. E. Roberts' Nomination Urged.

Senator Kenyon called on the President to urge the nomination of George E. Roberts, director of the mint, for a position on the federal reserve board. Mr. Roberts has been highly spoken of for one of these places, although he is not a candidate. As director of the mint he has for years kept in close touch with the financial and business world. Some years ago he resigned from the directorship of the mint and became president of the Commercial National Bank of Chicago, resigning from that position three years ago to return to the Treasury Department.

President Wilson will resume his semi-weekly conferences with Washington newspaper men Thursday afternoon, going back to the custom of talking with the newspaper writers Monday mornings at 10 o'clock and Tuesday afternoons at 2:30 o'clock. There have been no conferences for nearly a month. Only one suggestion is made by the White House for the future conferences, and that is that the correspondents and reporters will not ask questions regarding the mediation proceedings at Niagara Falls. The President always has desired to be frank with his inquirers, but does not feel that he can afford to touch upon mediation now.

Discusses Colorado Situation.

Mrs. Helen L. Grenfell, representing the Law and Order League of Colorado, composed largely of women of that state, and recently organized to uphold the law and order in connection with the Colorado strikes, conferred for fifteen minutes with President Wilson today. She was presented by Representative Taylor of that state. Mrs. Grenfell was for many years superintendent of education of Colorado. She did not come to Washington, she said, to comment upon the situation in Colorado. She is Lindsey of Denver, whose sympathies are entirely with the strikers. She did not mention Judge Lindsey's name, she said, but she did tell the President that there had been great exaggeration of the events in the Colorado coal fields, both by yellow newspapers and persons of a similar tendency.

She offered no advice to the President as to what should be done, but she did tell him that the troubles there cannot be adjusted as quickly as some think, and she urged the President to retain the federal troops there until the state authorities have a fair opportunity to end the difficulties. She told the President that the situation is not fundamentally a Colorado matter, but an interstate or national affair. The "Miners' Union" headquarters are at Indianapolis, and the leaders and the money to support the strike are sent from that city, she said. The new league pledges itself to give support to Gov. Ammons and the constituted authorities, both civil and military, in their efforts to protect life and property.

CLAIMANTS TO GET LITTLE

United States Supreme Court Defines Liability of the Titanic Steamship Owners.

Practically nothing will be recovered by those who lost relatives or baggage in the sinking of the Titanic and who sue the owner of the ship in the United States as a result of a decision today by the Supreme Court of the United States.

The court held that the liability of the Oceanic Steam Navigation Company for the $130,000,000 of claims against it as owner of the ill-fated Titanic is limited in suits in the United States by the American limited liability law of 1851 to the value of the salvage recovered, the freight and passage money received on the Titanic's voyage, amounting in all to about $91,000.

The decision in no way affects suit brought against the owner in other countries. Justice Holmes announced the court's decision, from which Justice McKenna dissented.

MUST APPEAR FOR TRIAL.

Attachment for Base Ball Manager Accused of Assaulting Umpire.

While umpiring a base ball game Saturday afternoon between the Spartans and the Emeralds A. R. Jenkins rendered a decision which was disputed by James Stewart, manager of the Spartan base ball team.

Stewart is alleged to have struck the umpire. He was arrested and later released on $5 collateral pending a hearing in the Police Court.

When the case was called today Stewart failed to respond. Prosecution Attorney Given called the affair to the attention of the court and an attachment was issued to compel Stewart's appearance for trial.

CABLE TO CRADDOCK

ABOUT OIL INTERESTS

Diplomats Notify Admiral of Move to Stay Tampico Claim.

Determined to prevent as far as possible the consummation of plans for the acquisition of the oil properties and leases of foreigners in the Tampico district in Mexico by persons who have taken advantage of the enforced suspension of production and the absence of the workmen, the British ambassador and the minister for the Netherlands here, today, cabled to Admiral Craddock, in command of the British naval forces in Mexico, and to the Dutch consul at Tampico to give notice to all that negotiations are now in progress for the formal repudiation of such "claim-jumping."

The two diplomatic officers spent half an hour in conference today with Counselor Lansing at the State Department, at the instance of Secretary Bryan, perfecting the phraseology of a tripartite agreement that is to be signed in behalf of the United States, Great Britain and the Netherlands expressly declaring that in neither country will there be recognized legally any change in title to oil wells and other property in the Mexican oil fields brought about by the payment of rentals or other obligations by persons who have sought to acquire possession of such properties as an incident to the military operations in the vicinity of Tampico.

The fifth and last member of the board has not yet been chosen, according to information today, and the President is expected to announce his suit his ideas. Richard Olney of Boston and W. H. Wheeler of Chicago, of whom the President has steadily sought for membership on the board.

REALITY OF RESULTS BRIGHT'S DISEASE

Patient, Draper S. Greene, 33 W. Rittenhouse Ave., Battle Creek, Mich.

Case, diagnosed by two physicians as Bright's Disease and incurable.

Patient could not lie down for nine weeks. Legs were so bloated with dropsy they had to be lashed. One of the physicians said he could probably live a month or so, the other did not think he would last a week.

Patient's renal compound was administered with gradual recovery. The permanency of the results are shown by a letter from this patient dated Feb. 16, 1914, written two years later, giving the names of two battle Creek lawyers, N. A. Briggs and B. A. Jacobs, as witnesses of his recovery.

He closes with the statement that "another bad case was given up, changed to the Renal Compound and is on the streets again."

The ability of Fulton's Renal Compound to reduce albumen in urine in cases of Bright's Disease is not a matter of opinion, but a FACT IN PHYSICS. We will mail form for albumen test that will show the percentage from week to week. As the albumen decreases, improvement commences, follows, cures having been reported in thousands of cases. Form and literature sent on request. John J. Fulton Co., San Francisco. (Fulton's Drug Store is local agent. Ask for pamphlet.)
